PEACE ATTEMPT APPARENTLY FAILS

LANCASTER TRIED TO SETTLE GRAVEL WAR

Cecil Lancaster, Town Manager of Wilmington has come to the conclusion that his attempt to settle Wilmington's long-standing Gravel War has failed. Lancaster, for the past week has been hoping daily to hear that representatives of the Campanella & Cardi Company have signed a document intended to stop the constant bickering over gravel and fill, in Wilmington.

But, as Wednesday night approached, and no signatures had been affixed to the document, prepared by Town Counsel Philip Buzzell, Lancaster gave up hope.

The document had already been signed by all members of both the Board of Water Commissioners, and the Board of Selectmen.

Webber's Idea

When Lancaster arrived in Wilmington, one of the first things he heard was a proposal by Stanley Webber, Temporary Town Manager, on a possible method of breaking the long impasse.

Webber believed that Campanella & Cardi would be happy to forego taking gravel and fill from Steve Hathaway, the elusive gravel merchant, if they were assured of a steady supply.

He proposed that the fill come from 36 acres of land owned by the Water Department, off Andover Street, to the westward.

Lancaster took over, and promoted the idea. Campanella & Cardi's Engineer, Mr. Ryan, was in favor, and a price was agreed upon, - a sort of favor for favor price.

Campanella & Cardi would take all their gravel from the town owned pit. They would acquire the former Curtis gravel pit, in which Hathaway is now digging for China, and fill it. They would grade all the land in the two pits, spread loam, and provide seedling pines with which to plant the area.

They would then give the town a deed for the former Curtis pit, free and clear.

In addition to this, the agreement called for providing a hard surfaced driveway for the Water Department Barrows Station driveway, for providing granite curbing from the High School to the Town Cemetery, and to clean up the gravel pits of Fred & Ethel Smith of William and Alice Dias, and of Benjamin Hartshorn, all off Concord Street.

Moreover, the agreement read that the Campanella & Cardi Company, and its agents and sub-contracting companies would have nothing to do with Hathaway, so long as they were in Wilmington.

The agreement also called for calling off the present suit against former TM Alfred Calabrese, and for a demurrer against any other suits.

But, as the deadline had long passed by, on Wednesday afternoon, Cecil Lancaster came to the conclusion that the Peace Treaty was not going to be signed.

In return for this, Campanella & Cardi was to get enough gravel and fill to complete their project in Wilmington - an estimated 70,000 to 100,000 yards, from a hill that the Water Commissioners believed should be graded anyway.

PEOPLE OF GOOD WILL.
A truck load of peat, for the Methodist Church, is dumped by the Campanella & Cardi Company. The Church obtained a large lot of the black material, free of charge, from the highway contractor.

PLANNING BOARD GETS RID OF LIFE RAFT

The Wilmington Planning Board Tuesday evening voted to give the remains of the Silver Lake Town Beach life raft to Officer Charles Dolan, of the Wilmington Police.

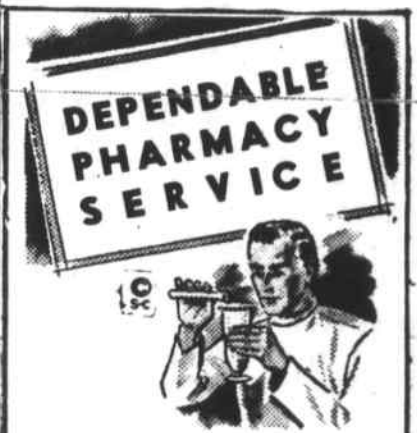

Mr. Dolan wishes to give the raft to a boys camp in New Hampshire.

The Board, earlier in the evening had heard Fred Bellissimo tell them that it was a blessing that the raft had removed from the beach by vandals. Attendance did not drop, at the beach, and the lack of a raft caused the more troublesome individuals to seek their fun elsewhere, Bellissimo told the Board.

After being cut loose by the vandals the raft drifted over Silver Lake for some time, and separated into two parts.

COMMUNITY FUND TIME

Once again we have come to the time of the year when we may expect our neighbor's knock on our door, collecting for the Wilmington Community Fund.

Our Community Fund is our own. It is operated entirely by volunteer aids, for the people of Wilmington. We can be proud of it.

The actual costs of administration, spent entirely on supplies and services, amount to a little over 2.2% of the cost of our Community Fund this year. When one considers stories apocryphal or otherwise, about salaries and expenses of other funds one can be proud of our workers, who do so much with so little.

It is up to us, the people of Wilmington, to continue the good work of our Community Fund.
We are proud of it. Lets show our pride by our support of this grand little organization.

ENFORCEMENT

Events in the past few days, not having any particular thing to do with our gravel war, but with other small operators in gravel and loam have led the Planning Board to the conclusion that the answer is stricter enforcement of our
By Laws.

While the conclusion is easy, the enforcement is another thing entirely. By Laws are in a peculiar status to themselves, generally enforceable only by obtaining a writ from the courts. Our experience in this respect has not been happy, and we daresay many other towns are in similar circumstances.

Our law, for instance, says that a load of loam may not be removed from Wilmington without the permission of the Board of Selectmen.

But it is only an offense against our by-laws. And the fine is $20 a day, for one load or for a million, which means that a determined operator could really go to town, if he wished, and until such time as a Judge would become provoked and really slap down things.

Then too, there is a nebulous area, in the question of who is going to do the enforcement.
The Building Inspector is the enforcing officer, in some instances, and the Police in others. It takes an expert sharpshooting lawyer to pick out the line of delineation between the two enforcing agencies. If an officer of the town blunders he might well become personally responsible for his blunder.

The gravel merchants have their legal sharpshooter, who knows these things, in and out.
We have a capable Town Counsel, who, if he worked every day on the task, could probably outshoot, in a manner of speaking, his brother attorney. But Mr. Buzzell is a busy man, who is on a part time salary, and who also likes to take long and well earned vacations in the summer time - the very time when the gravel wars are at their peak.

The conclusion of the members of the Planning Board is that we in this town should get a young, capable and aggressive attorney who will be immediately available, at any time, day or night, to advise our enforcement officers of what is right and what is wrong for them to do.

It might cost some thousands of dollars to do this, for a year or two, but it might well be worth it. Wilmington is a pretty sad example of what can happen to a town when sharpshooters arrive determined to wreck the law enforcing agencies.

We can name some towns where the Police are on the job, and where, if they can't arrest a gravel merchant's employees for one thing they can always get him for another - overloading, speeding, or something like that. The only time that happened in Wilmington was when the State Motor Vehicle Inspectors came out here.

But our police have their problems, just as does our Building Inspector. They may have the will, but perhaps they don't have the legal knowledge.

Strict enforcement, for a period of time, would result in having the gravel merchants try their tactics elsewhere. Perhaps it would cost money, but it certainly would pay off.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

A favorite topic of some people who don't have anything to talk about is our younger generation, and how they are "going to the dogs".

Our old folks may be right. We don't know.
But we have noticed that the young folks of this town who are kept busy by their parents, or who have a project on their own account to keep them busy, are not at all on the downward path.

On the other hand those who have nothing to do are the ones who seem to be headed in the wrong direction.

We think there is a moral there, and it isn't that we should provide more table tennis or other past times for our youngsters.

TOWN NOTES

Autumn Begins

Today is the first full day of Autumn. The sun crossed the celestial equator amidst a blaze of warm weather, yesterday.

After that frost of a week ago temperatures have been very much on the high side. A couple of days saw 80 degrees and better, during the past three or four.

We have had no rainfall.

That Old False Alarm

Wilmington Householders who were awakened by the fire alarm, Monday at 2 am, if they counted the signal, recognized it as the number outside the Mildred Rogers School.

It was again a false alarm.
That box seems to attract the early morning pranks.

Wilmington on TV

Wilmington's Evening Practical Arts School had its long awaited half hour on TV, Channel 5, last night.

Ronald Preble, Director of the school, had been asked to prepare such a program for last spring, but something interfered, so that it was put off, until the beginning of the school year - which was all for the better, according to Preble's way of thinking.

It was a demonstration of the Practical Arts Program in all of the Massachusetts schools which conduct such a program, with Wilmington's school being the demonstrator.

Miss McClintock, the State
Practical Art School Director was in charge, and spoke about five minutes. The rest of the half hour was devoted to Wilmington.

Among those seen was Jim Hanson, High School Teacher, who gave a demonstration of Drafting, and Mrs Helen Sanford, Dressmaking teacher, with some of her pupils showed some of the work done in our school.

The telecast was a part of Jim Britt's Date Line Boston
show.

A plug was given to Ed Rideout, the teacher of the new Photography course, and the program exhibited the enlarger which is to be given to one of the students in the course.

The Hales Have It

This seems to be a Hale Week, as far as your correspondent is concerned.

To start at the beginning,
Campanella & Cardi is now
tearing down the old Death Bridge, at the Reading-Wilmington line. Death Bridge, of course, was so named for the number of auto accidents that took place there in the 1920's before a new approach ( now being demolished) was built.

The stones that supported Death Bridge were laid, in 1844, by a man named Jimmy Hale, who had come down from New Hampshire to get a job on the construction of the new track, for the Boston & Maine.

Jimmy stayed in Wilmington all the rest of his life, except for the time he was in the Union Army, during the Civil War. He was quite a man.

The second Hale, of course, is Walter, Jimmy's grandson, now living in Florida. We were looking at the place where our Town Garage used to be, during the past week - and it was Walter Hale who was Chairman of the Board of Selectmen when that garage was built - he was the man who came down every afternoon to see how it was coming along.

The third Hale is Walter's son, Norman, a resident of Wolboro, New Hampshire. When Walter retired from the ice-business he bought a farm in Wolboro and planted a lot of apple trees, and Sunday afternoon we stopped in, on our way home from the New England Weekly Press meeting, and bought apples, from Norman,
who now runs the farm.

Finally, Monday evening we were asked by one of our old timers as to why the Planning Board named Grove Street, in East Wilmington, Kilmarnock Street.

Our old timer pointed out that it should have been Foley

LIBRARY NOTES

Information Please

If you have any information about people who lived here and events which took place in the early days of the Town, will you share it with us?

Often the Library and the Town Clerk receive inquiries from people who are trying to trace their ancestry or to verify some happening, and we have very little to offer them. Our records are few and incomplete. There may be in existence letters, diaries, etc., containing just the information we need. Certainly you would not wish to part with the original documents, but if you could have copies or know where they are and whom to ask it would be of immeasurable help.

Story Hour

The Story Hour for pre-school children will be resumed after a lapse of some time. The exact date and hour will be announced soon.

Handle With Care

Please help us keep the books in good condition for circulation. Do not turn down the corner of a page to hold your place, or leave the book face down, as soon the turned down corner will part from the page and the binding of the book may be broken. Try to return the book in the condition in which you would like to find the one you borrow.

or Hale Street - and added something that we never knew - that it was on this street, in the present Deneby home, that Mr and Mrs Walter Hale lived, when they were first married.

Bill Gregory

Bill Gregory wasn't very well known in Wilmington, although he had lived here (in the old Alexander House on Hopkins St) for about 10 years.

He was a carnival man, all his life, and was the manager and handy man for the only person we ever saw who could be billed as a mermaid - Mary Krasinski.

Mary Krasinski had no legs. Where her legs ought to have been was one piece of flesh, joined together from the waist to the feet. The feet splayed out, so as to form what looked like a fish tail.

In addition she had a scale-appearing skin, so that the carnival operators weren't stretching the truth too far when they billed her as the Only Captive Mermaid In Existence.

Bill, as we say, was her manager for years. He took her from carnival to sideshow, to circus, all over the United States, and perhaps other countries too. It was a partnership that lasted for years.

The only local appearance we know of, for Mary, was about 20 years ago, in Lowell, at the time that some exhibitor had a captive whale, in a large tank, mounted on two railroad cars, in that city.

Mary too, was part of the exhibit. She was in the same tank as the whale, for at least part of the time.

The final seven years of her life were spent in the Alexander House, where Bill took care of her like a devoted mother. She was often to be seen sitting in a hammock on the front porch. Bill used to carry her out there, to enjoy the sun, and then carry her back into the house, for of course she was unable to walk.

But she died about three years ago, and Bill lived on, until this week. Now the last of the team has passed on, to his last final reward.

Stepping Down?

Is Cagy Sam going to do a Casey Stengel? Is he going to step down from the management of one of Wilmington's oldest baseball teams - now teething at the mature of three?

The answer, we hear, is that he is going to do just that.

Sam, his friends say, is going to just sit in the bleachers, and watch. Like Casey Stengel, he has won enough pennants.

Opportunities

The school offers opportunities in a number of ways for people to better themselves.

Foremost, from the citizen-ship viewpoint is the Americanization Course, offered to people who wish to acquire U.S. Citizenship. It is a wonderful opportunity for foreign born people to get assistance in acquiring citizenship.

The school has an excellent instructor in Interior Decorating. It has one of the classes of this type in the Commonwealth.

The Photography Class, new this year, has one of the country's outstanding photographers as its instructor. An enlarger is to be awarded at the end of the course to one of the pupils, and an exhibition will be held at the end of the course.

There is a congenial atmosphere in all of the classes. It is an excellent way for newcomers to Wilmington to meet and make new friends.

THE WILMINGTON SCHOOL OF BALLET

NEW BUILDING

The fastest growing plant, if not the largest in Wilmington is the Charles River Laboratories on Ballardvale Street.

Garnet Mills, General Manager, and Raymond Fitzmaurice of Boutwell Street, Construction Engineer, face the camera from on top of the fourth building, now being constructed. They are standing on a new type concrete beams called Flexicore, believed to be the first installation of its type in Wilmington. K4

WILDWOOD PARENTS CLUB ANNUAL SUPPER

The Wildwood Parents Club will hold its annual supper next Monday, in the Wildwood School. Membership in the club is the admission ticket. The menu will consist of baked ham, beans, potato salad, cole slaw and coffee and doughnuts.

The supper will begin at 6pm. A parent-teachers conference will be held between 7 and 8pm.

JAMES MICILI TOPS IN INSURANCE SALES

James R. Micili was Agency Sales Leader for the month of August at the Peter J. Feeney Agency of the State Mutual Life Assurance Company of America, in Boston.

He recently returned from a sales conference at the Westchester Country Club, in Rye, NY, and has already qualified for a company leaders' conference to be held at the White Face Inn, at Lake Placid, NY, next June.

He has been with the agency since his graduation from Northeastern University in June, 1958.

His parents, Mr and Mrs Vincent Micili, reside at 55 Dandant Drive, No. Wilmington.

WHA APPROVES HAGERTY'S FOUR LANE PROPOSAL

The proposal of Selectman Francis J. Hagerty that Main Street be a four lane highway from Fred Cain's to the Tewksbury line received the approving nod of the Wilmington Housing Authority, last Thursday night.

Hagerty, the previous Monday had proposed to his fellow Selectmen that Representatives Frank Tanner and Tom Donohue be asked to introduce a bill into next years legislative hopper, for a four lane highway along Main Street. The other Selectmen approved, but first wanted to make sure that it would fit in with the WHA plans for Urban Renewal at Wilmington Square.

Four Selectmen (Kidder, Hagerty, De Felice and Black) and all five members of the Housing Authority had a joint meeting last Thursday at WHA headquarters on Deming Way. Not only the highway, but many other subjects were discussed, in an informal meeting.

Two of the Selectmen, De Felice and Hagerty were to be described as practically 100% behind Urban Renewal, while Black and Kidder had reservations.

Legislators To Be Asked

The Selectmen, at their Monday night's meeting, decided to ask Messrs Tanner and Donohue to attend a Selectmen's meeting at their convenience so that the proposed four lane highway may be talked over more fully.

Plans for the proposed highway were prepared several years ago by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, at the behest of ex TM Joe Courtney.

LETTER

Dear Larz:

Last week in the Town Crier you reported that Sam Ethier had won his third pennant, in the Wilmington Softball Recreation League.

Amn't you a little over zealous. Commissioner Larry Cushing declared the play-offs off because of the late season, and what the Townies and Weinbergs did was to have their own little playoff.

There is no rule that there has to be a playoff. The League results show that the Wilmington Ford Thunderbirds
stand as champions, with Cagy Sam's team in second place, because the Merri-Macs didn't play their last game - the lateness of the season, etc., being the cause.

If Cagy Sam wants to have a playoff, outside the league, he can do so. I have no hard feelings, but it isn't a League Championship.

Phil Nelson
We always claimed that the Softball League had tortured rules and ways of playing.

HUGH MCCORMACK JOINS THE NAVY

Hugh McCormack, star halfback of last year's High School Football team, reported for duty with the US Navy last Thursday.

An all round sports enthusiast, he won the New Hampshire
Open Tournament, for Caddies, three years ago. He played baseball in the High School nine, and was Chairman of the Senior Dance, while in school.

The son of Mr and Mrs Leo McCormack, of Grove Avenue, he wants to go into Naval Aviation.

He has been sent to the Great Lakes Training Center, in Illinois.

A MOTHER'S LETTER TO HER SON

My Son, My Son:
This is not double talk. But since there are two of you,
you may share my salutation.
Hope that one of you met the other, by this time, and that you are both well orientated.
Please don't dally in the shot line, and get a second shot for not moving fast enough, like somebody I know. One Typhoid shot is enough for any man.

The first day of school here was quite a mess. All the girls in their wool plaids, and the thermometer hit 92 in the shade. Something happened to the Bus Schedule, and they had to walk home. Your sister looked like something out of Gunga Din when she came to the door, yelling, 'WATER', with her woollens all wilted.
Well, sir, she had her prayer answered the next day... it came down, in buckets.

You know what they say about
New England weather; if you don't like it, wait a few minutes.

I saw Jeannie Emery going down the Main Street, yesterday, - Saturday, in a shiny car, all dressed up like a Princess... Her sister's wedding, I believe, and she was a beautiful Bridesmaid.

We haven't seen 'D-Jay', or the opening of De Moul's Market, yet, but we keep hoping..
...there is no thrill that compares with the opening of a new market, for Mother. We don't know yet what to expect to find when those doors open, but we are always there, looking.

I want so much to see you graduate, marching at the front of your platoon, behind the Colors, and everything, setting the pace for your men!
Even Mrs. Eisenhower, pointing Ike out, back in the old days, couldn't feel the wild exultation that will arise within my heart, as I say to my neighbor, 'This is my son!'

'Can't decide whether to call this Mother Love, or just plain conceit... but stay up there, Son... lead your platoon on to whatever glory you may be destined to, and may your buttons always burst when you hear the march of Navy men
.... for I know that the Navy has increased one hundred fold in my eyes, in the last month.
No more for now, me Hearties,
except, keep your powder dry, and other such tally-ho expressions, and I shall fly by Jet to see you graduate, leaving my stomach in East Boston, where we take off, of course.

CONTINUING THE BUSINESS OF THE LATE GOULD BUCKLE

ALL IS SERENE
State Highway Engineer John Steel, and Don Kidder, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen pause for the camera after the highway conference in the Town Hall Monday evening. K3

NO WORK ON WOBURN STREET YET - BUT SOON, IS PROMISE

John Steel, Assistant Construction Engineer for the Department of Public Works, Commonwealth of Massachusetts told the Board of Selectmen Monday evening that work would begin 'very soon - maybe tomorrow', on the rough roads of Woburn Street, and Andover Streets, torn up by contractor's gravel trucks.

The work would start just as soon as he could get Campa-nella & Cardi to get their equipment to the two sites, he told the Selectmen.

As of Wednesday the work had not started, but not for the want of effort on the part of Steel. It just couldn't be done that quick.

The Selectmen had quite a list of troubles, man made and otherwise, which they listed with Mr. Steele.

Starting at the northern end of the new Route 93, Steel was told that there was danger of salt from the new highway going into the Water Department wells at Brown's Crossing, that the culvert under Andover Street, near the Jensen Farm had collapsed, that the culvert under the old Salem & Lowell Railroad had been plugged up by one of the sub-contractors, who dumped gravel there to make the roadbed wider.

Andover Street, and Woburn Street were, of course, a prime subject for conversation by the Selectmen. Kidder told Jones that he was anticipating that the people in Hathaway Acres would be 'up in arms any day now', and that they 'had had wonderful patience'.

The water draining from the new highway into the Barrows Well Field was the subject of another long conversation, with Frank Hagerty doing most of the talking. Hagerty pointed out that it was planned to leave a long culvert, along the new end of High Street open, and that there would be danger to school children in this. He estimated the distance at 800 feet.

Hagerty also wanted the drain from the new highway covered, and carried beyond the well field, so as to preclude the possibility of getting the salt laden water into the wells.

Kidder pointed out to Steel a pond, on the side of Woburn St near the Albert Ethier home. Water in this pond, all summer was something new, he told Steel, and he could see, from his airplane trip of two weeks ago, that the new highway had blocked up the former drain.

Kidder and Mrs. Drew then told about the pond near the corner of Concord and Woburn Streets, and their belief that the gravel trucks had caused the culvert to either collapse or be plugged up.

The next point was the Ipswich River, brought up by Hagerty. The old channel does not connect with the new channel, under the bridge, he told Steel.

Kidder and Mrs. Drew took up the subject of drainage near Westdale Avenue. Steel told them that there should be no trouble there, but perhaps one of the piles of peat was blocking drainage. The design was for the water to drain into the Hundred Acre Meadow, he said.

The old Deacon's Curve, on West Street was a subject in which all the Selectmen took part. It had been destroyed early in the road building operations. Steel told them that he would see what could be done.

A 32 foot travelled way will end in an 18 foot travelled way, he told Steel, and there is a blind corner at that point, because of ledge. He and Rep. Donohue had already talked over the subject, Hagerty told Steel, and perhaps something is already planned to correct the difficulty.

Steel promised to look into it, after which Hagerty dropped his last request - for a repair of the culvert which is just south of the Murphy Farm on Ballardvale Street.

I don't know if it was Bayer & Mingolla trucks which caused the damage' He told Steel, 'I am just hoping it is!'
